TRADE WITH FRANCE.

Are in Great Demand. WASHINGTON, May 25 .- A publication of timely interest, in view of the general exchange of courtesies between the United States and France, was made public today by Mr. Frederic Emory, chief of the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, showing how this country progressed in trade relations | creasing. Prunes, formerly shipped to New with the French Republic last year. The York, are now imported from California paper is an extract from the big volume entitled "Commercial Relations for 1901," Consul Covert, at Lyons, mentions, which covers the entire field of foreign among the first articles from the United trade. It is stated that nearly all the con- | States that are sold in Lyons, cash regissular officers in France speak of the grati- ters, fountain pens, pencils, sausage grindfying increase in the importation of agri- ers, ice-cream freezers, egg beaters, stoves, cultural machinery from the United States. | saws, drills, planes, lathes, time recorders, Consul Thackara, of Havre, says that numbers of our mowers, reapers and binders arrive weekly at that port by the steam- sorts are highly prized. Stores have signs ers of the French line. Along the Loire river our farming machines are in use are several so-called "American bazars," everywhere, and the men who use them say | though many of the articles they sell are that in every instance they do their work | not of American manufacture. well, are much more economical than the old-fashioned harvesting methods, and that the investment is a good one for the owner. Agricultural implements bearing an American name are found at every country fair, says Consul Covert, of Lyons, and are highly prized. Representatives of mower and reaper and steam-engine firms in the United States recently have established a good business in that part of France.

The importation of our rakes, plows, harrows, drills and, in fact, nearly all farm implements, Commercial Agent Griffin, of Limoges, says, is a growing trade. Our manufacturers nevertheless would meet with even greater success if they made an attempt to study the conditions of the French trade or to adapt their machines to French requirements. Grain and hay are cut differently in France, and the stubble is much shorter and the hay of a finer quality than in America. Another fact to be borne in mind is that oxen and cows are generally used on farms, instead of mules and horses; consequently the gearing of the machines must be adapted to the slow pace of these animals. Consul Tourgee, of Bordeaux, notes that, although there is in that region a steady impossible to get the ordinary French laborer to operate them with that skill and great measure, due to the fact that every American laborer is, to a pronounced degree, a mechanic, as well as a farmer. When a bolt breaks or a nut is lost he hunts about in his tool box or workroom Mitchell's private secretary. for something to take its place, and in a its work again. Not so with the French laborer. He has neither the skill nor the desire to mend the tool he uses, or even to keep it in reasonable repair. That is the business of other tradesmen-the blacksmith, the cartwright, the mechanic and the painter. The French workman has no interest in labor-saving devices. In the park opposite the consulate, continues Mr. Tourgee, men are at work all summer long elipping the too luxuriant herbage. What are the implements they use? Lawn mowers? Not at all. They are scythes, the blades of which are five inches wide at one and taper to a point at the other. They are sharpened by being pounded to an edge on a small anvil and have a snath made of the limb of a tree, with a short branch cut at a convenient length and interval for a thole pin. Seeing this outfit, one is irresistibly impelled to look it over for the trade mark of "Tubal Cain & Co." There is no demand on the part of such laborers for improved implements. One American workman will do as much as four of these, and it is because of this fact that American producers can turn out work at less price than their French competitors, although wages are far higher. American brooms and rubber shoes, the consul says, have made their appearance in Bordeaux in such numbers during the past two years as to seem familiar. Our shoe machinery is used in the largest shoe factory in France, situated in Limoges, and two hundred and fifty thousand dollars' worth of American dressed kid skins were imported into that region in 1900 for the manufacture of shoes. There is a demand in France, says Mr. Thackara, for American oil-burning stoves for heating purposes. Care must be taken

The circular which President Mitchell sent out yesterday, warning the Polish, Slavish and Lithuanian miners to remain away from the bituminous region of Virginia and West Virginia, where strikes are now in progress, was read in many of the churches where the foreign miners attend services. Some of the clergy made remarks urging the strikers who belong to their congregations to be law-abiding and be guided by their leaders so long as the leaders were faithful to the trust reposed in them. Some of the Polish and Lithuanian clergymen are said to be opposed to the strike, or were opposed to it before it was declared, on the ground that the people intrusted to their spiritual care were not prepared to stand a long siege of Secretary Mullahy, of the Stationary Firemen's Union, reported to-day that the poll of the men employed at the various collieries has just been completed, and that over 90 per cent. of the men will quit work on June 2, unless an eight-hour day is granted them. Another officer of the union admits that the percentage of engineers who will quit work will not be as large, but very nearly so. What percentage of no trouble in filling all vacancies that may

Meetings of railroad men to discuss the advisability of refusing to handle nonunion and bituminous coal during the progress by our manufacturers not to attach any of the miners' strike were held in Wilkesbarre, Kingston and Ashley this afternoon. All three meetings were secret. The Wilkesbarre meeting was more largely attended than the one Friday evening. It was given out that the question was distaken. The meeting at Kingston agreed to take the matter up at another meeting, to be held next week. The Ashley meeting indorsed the miners' strike and will render financial aid. The railroad brotherhoods, with headquarters in this city, also will give financial assistance, but it is said will not resort to a sympathetic strike.

A big union meeting of railroad men will be held in this city on June 2, when the question of railroad crews handling nonunion and bituminous coal will be finally settled. It is expected that a number of grand officers from the various brotherhoods will be present.

The Rev. J. J. Curran, in a statement issued to-night, says a general strike of bituminous miners will bring about a crisis in the anthracite field, and the operators would have to treat with their employes,

Another Attempt at Settlement. NEW YORK, May 25.-With reference to recent rumors that there is still hope of settling the differences between the coal miners and operators the Tribune will say to-morrow: "Another attempt, it was learned last (Sunday) evening, will be made by the National Civic Federation to effect a settlement of the anthracite mines strike, and a meeting will be called in the city within ten days, unless the strike is ended in the meantime. Under the by-laws of the Civic Federation its arbitration committee cannot act unless both sides to the dispute ask for its services. In this case, while the miners are willing to accept the services have refused to agree to arbitration. The Civic Federation is now preparing to call a meeting of its full executive committee to see if any new plan can be arranged. The time for the meeting is expected to be fixed early this week and must take place within ten days. There are thirty-six members on the committee. It includes Bishop Potter, who, as he is going to Europe at once, will not be able to attend the meeting. Both sides of the dispute will be asked to send representatives to the meeting, though the operators have so far reof Chicago Packing Houses. CHICAGO, May 25.-Five hundred union teamsters employed in the delivery of meat by the big packing houses went on a strike at midnight to-night for a substantial inhours. As a result of the strike the men say no meat will be delivered to retail dealers to-morrow or at railroad stations for shipment out of the city. The strlkers say they have received assurances of support from othe other labor organizations whose members are employed at the stockyards, and that any attempt by the packers to fill their places with nonunion teamsters will result in a general tie-up of the packing houses.

For the last two weeks the union, through a number of committees, has been making an effort to gain concessions from the managers of the different firms. In every case, they aver, they have been denied conference, and at a meeting to-night it was decided to go on strike in an effort to force the packers to terms.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 25 .- Through its inability to hit Wolfe, Indianapolis dropped to-day's game to the Blues by the score of 4 to 2. As in Thursday's game, when Wolfe shut out the visitors, he kept the hits well scattered, and had it not been for free passes he issued in the first the story of to-day's game would have been made up wholly of ciphers as far as Indianapolis was concerned.

An enthusiastic crowd of 4,500 persons attended the game, and they were given their money's worth from the time play was called until the close of the last inning. In the fifth Miller collided with Grady at first and was so badly injured that he had to be carried from the grounds. Grady bunted, and to beat it out he slid to the bag, feet first. Miller had his foot in Miller's foot was badly spiked, and it is Umpire-Tindill. probable that he will be out of the game Miller's mishap to-da; makes the third of Watkins's men to be

Nance drew a pass to first, and after Rothfuss had placed a good hit to deep center Smith made a single and Grady planted one to right field that counted for two bases, scoring Nance. Beville followed with a two-base hit, scoring another run. Grady came home on O'Brien's infield out. In the fifth Smith was allowed transportation, and Grady beat out a bunt. Then followed two sacrifices, which scored Smith and ended the run getting. Indianapolis did all of its scoring in the first inning, off bases on balls and a single.

LONDON, May 26 .- The deep importance attached here to the friendship of the United States could not be better exemplified than by the unusually sincere expressions, published in the London press, of regret at the death of Lord Pauncefote, the British ambassador at Washington, and the high eulogiums of his career in the United States. The papers this morning vie with, each other in paying tribute to the inestithe empire in the difficult position which, as the Daily Chronicle reminds its readers, is now the most exacting in the diplomatic service, and quite different from the time when Lord Stratford De Redcliffe described the Washington legation as "very pleasant socially, but not requiring any great talents
